

How a Leading European Bank Boosted Accuracy and Efficiency with Foxit PDF Editor

SUCCESS STORY CASE STUDY

| Executive Summary

A major European bank needed to manage large volumes of sensitive financial documents accurately and quickly. Using Foxit PDF Editor, the bank significantly streamlined its document comparison and review process. Key features—like horizontal tab viewing and document comparison tools—helped employees view, analyze, and verify critical information faster than ever before, reducing errors and eliminating the need for hard copies.

| About the Bank

This prominent European bank manages an extensive portfolio of clients and processes thousands of financial documents weekly. Precision and compliance are core to its operations, from contracts and loan applications to detailed financial reports.

| Inefficient and Error-Prone Document Review

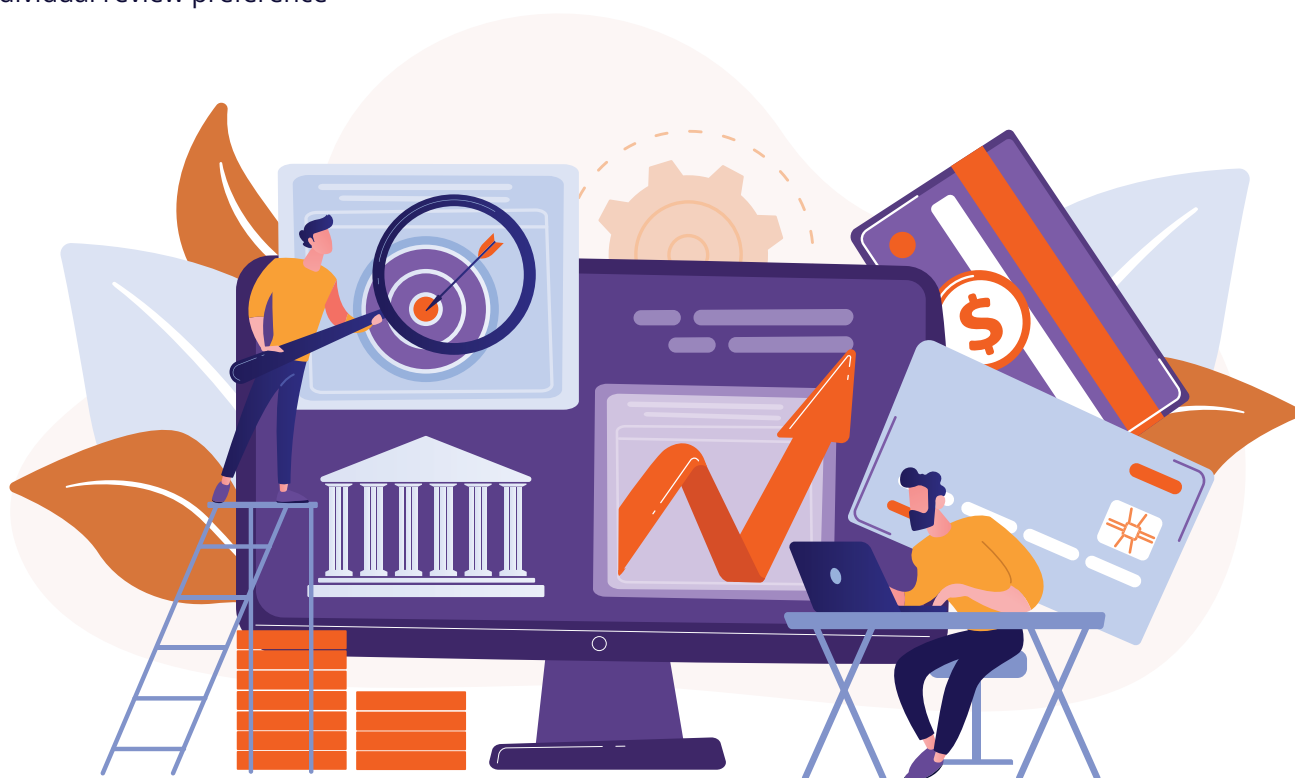

Employees spent excessive time switching between windows or printing documents to compare versions manually. This slowed down review cycles and increased the risk of missing critical changes in contracts, applications, or reports, putting operational accuracy at risk

Foxit PDF Editor for Comparison and Tab Management

Foxit PDF Editor became a key tool in the bank's document workflow. Its horizontal tab viewing enabled employees to view multiple documents side by side—perfect for comparing client contracts, financial statements, or application forms in real time. The built-in comparison tool highlighted subtle changes between versions, allowing staff to catch discrepancies early and avoid costly errors.

The software's customizable layout options helped boost productivity, enabling users to tailor their workspace to individual review preference

| Results and Benefits

With Foxit PDF Editor, the bank improved speed and accuracy across document-heavy workflows. The time saved from toggling between windows or printing files was reinvested into higher-value tasks. Staff worked more confidently, knowing they could catch every revision and maintain data integrity.
